

DSP RECOGNITION WEEK!

AHRC Suffolk's residence in Mount Sinai is home to six individuals, all of whom have been diagnosed with some form of dementia. While there was increased concern for their well being with the onset of the Coronavirus, thankfully all of the residents have done very well. With the wonderful support of DSPs, they have been enjoying their time home and making the best of it. The DSPs have been so supportive throughout this time by bringing in games, coloring books, CDs and movies. On a typical day DSPs enjoy going outside with residents and working on the garden that they're growing. Everyone weeds, plants and waters to keep the flowers blooming and looking great. Staff encourage residents to go for walks around the house and play basketball with one another. They also put on music for residents to enjoy and, of course, sing along to. Residents are happy to help out with chores and everyone looks out for one another. We thank our wonderful, supportive DSPs at Mount Sinai for all that they do day in and day out!

HEROES WORK HERE!
