Our staff, the people we support, their families and friends, our partners and supporters, all strive to ensure that people with developmental disabilities are part of a community where they can have a home of their own; enjoy strong friendships and relationships; have a job or meaningful activities that weave them into the fabric of those communities; and are able to pursue their own dreams.

Monday, we celebrate Dr. King's legacy and commit to the continued pursuit of his and our dream.

Sincerely,

Paul H. Torres
 Chief Executive Officer
